

Parent notes

Hello and thanks for printing this Squiggle Kids "Father's Day" card template!

It can be hard to encourage kids to make cards.

But it's worth it - handmade cards can be some of the most treasured gifts a person can receive!

Squiggle Kids drawing books, like this card template, aim to remove some of the barriers that can prevent kids from getting started drawing and having a go.

We've experienced our kids having difficulty getting started drawing and making cards - that's why we've included some of the structure for the card. A blank page for kids (even adults!) can be overwhelming!

And while we're big fans of drawing here at Squiggle Kids, we love creativity more generally. Instead of or in addition to drawing, your child might like to try stickers, stamps, pasting on cut-outs or paints or a combination to complete the card!

We've included on the right a few suggestions for what might go on the card - but there really is no limit! We recommend asking open ended questions to stimulate ideas or extend the activity - what toys do you and Dad love to play with? What is Dad's favourite story to read to you? Favourite food/sport?

Print this card template on A4 paper, landscape orientation and double sided. Or print single sided and attach each side to a piece of cardboard for a thicker card.
